There Will Be Progress But Little Glamour in 1985

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Don't expect 1985 to be a glamorous year in Andover, the town manager advised during a recent conversation in his Bartlet Street office.

There won't be many glittery moments like those of recent years — the dedication of the new town and school office wings, the opening of the J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center — and there probably won't be much high drama at annual town meeting.

But do expect a busy and "technical" year, Manager Kenneth Mahony said, as Andover rides the crest of growth that began during 1984, and is expected to wash over the new year.

"To the casual observer, 1985 is going to look like a slow year," the manager predicted. "You might not see much happening, not much change or much excitement. But if you look closely, you'll see an awful lot happening."

Andover's new year, he said, is going to be "a growth year of more than $100 million, unless economic conditions change dramatically.

"Especially in industry, the growth will be more than double any previous year, other than '84. Our tax base for the next 20 to 30 years is going to be established in the next two to three years."

With this growth already well underway — witness the foundations that have already been built for new industrial plants along River Road, for instance — "our priorities for 1985 are pretty well established for us by circumstance," Mahony noted.

"Our goal is to have this new construction built well, to meet the requirements of the bylaws and zoning restrictions. And to protect current residents from unnecessary discombobulation and discomfort during that process."

Just as the rapid growth anticipated for next year follows that of the past year, the manager intends to follow up on last year's strict attention to the quality of that growth, he said. "The quality of the development will grow out of the strong enforcement mode we've set — and plan to continue."

Town officials will focus their "greatest effort" on the burgeoning River Road corridor, where industries are now building at an energetic pace and im-

Alexander Payne, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Payne, becomes a CHESS CHAMPION at the age of eight, winning second place in the Massachusetts Lower Elementary School Chess Championship, and first place in the Northeast Regional Championships ... School department Business Manager Francis Paul says the schools may be facing a $67,757 DEFICIT in the current fiscal 1984 budget ... committee members may ask annual town meeting for an emergency appropriation of up to $82,000 to cover that shortfall ... Andover graduate student KIMBERLY LILLY travels to the Soviet Union for a four-month stay; she will study at the Pushkin Institute in Moscow ... Democratic presidential candidate GEORGE MCGOVERN speaks at George Washington Hall, Phillips Academy ... Elm Street neighbors and members of the Free Christian Church tell the selectmen they OBJECT TO PLANS FOR A RESTAURANT at what is now Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., and urge the selectmen not to grant a liquor license for the proposed restaurant ... Zoning articles designed to regulate ADULT ENTERTAINMENT ESTABLISHMENTS in Andover, styled after Stoughton's ordinances, are inserted on the annual town meeting warrant ... The selectmen insert the School Committee's $82,000 EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION article on the warrant, but not without some criticism: Selectman Donn Byrne advises the school committee to use "a sharper pencil" on their budget from now on ... Andover High School actors advance to the semi-final round of the annual STATEWIDE DRAMA COMPETITION ... A 12-member all-star cast will perform a one-act version of The Importance of Being Earnest at Belmont High School ... THE REV. The selectmen and Planning Board unite behind the need for MAJOR PUBLIC WORKS IMPROVEMENTS next year, and will recommend town meeting approval of a new Riverina Road sewage pumping station, an addition to the water treatment plant, and a new water distribution tank on Wood Hill ... Superintendent Kenneth Seifert tells the School Committee CUTS IN ADMINISTRATION will be necessary to bring the school budget in at $14.665 million ... With neighbors and Free Christian Church members withdrawing their opposition, The Duck of Andover WINS A LIQUOR LICENSE from the selectman; how many parking spaces the restaurant will provide at 18 Elm St. remains unclear ... Andover residents Kimberly Cronin, William Melahn and Robert Merrill are each elected to four-year terms on the REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE in the presidential primary election ... Following a state trend, Andover voters make Colorado SENATOR GARY HART the Democratic winner in the presidential primary sweepstakes ... second place goes to sentimental favorite George McGovern ... More political news: State Representative Sue Tucker announces her plans to SEEK RE-ELECTION to a second two-year term in the State House ... A fire that began in a wastebasket DESTROYS CHAPIN HOUSE, a 100-year-old Phillips Academy dormitory, leaving ten students and three faculty members homeless ... A TWO-DAY MID-MARCH STORM starring snow and sleet closes schools and many businesses for a day or so ... Andrea Feier, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feier, performs with the JULLIARD DANCE ENSEMBLE at the Julliard Theatre in New York City; she is a sophomore in the Julliard dance division ... The School Committee rejects the idea of ADMITTING OUT-OF-TOWN STUDENTS into Andover schools for a tuition fee, a fund-raising proposal advanced by the superintendent ... Andover Savings Bank will ask town meeting to ALLOW BANKS IN THE WEST ANDOVER INDUSTRIAL ZONE with a rezoning article ... the Planning Board opposes that article, but the selectmen consider giving it their support ... And the Knights of Columbus will try once again to have their six-acre Frontage Road property rezoned FROM RESIDENTIAL TO INDUSTRIAL; neighbors say they will once again oppose the article, which has been presented to past town meetings ... RICHARD CHAPPELL of Andover Photo, Elm Square, is honored by the Andover Center Association for his service as association president for the past two and one-half years ... ## To Discuss Financial Aid At School

The Andover High School counseling department is hosting a Financial Aid Information Night on Tuesday, Jan. 8, (snow date: Wednesday, Jan. 9) in the J. Everett Collins Center from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Christine Mor-dach, director of financial aid at Merrimack College, will make a presentation and answer questions about the Massachusetts Financial Aid Form (MFAF) and financial aid in general.

Copies of the MFAF are available in the counseling department and will be distributed at the meeting.

Information on local scholarships and the application procedure will also be available, although local scholarships will not be discussed at this time.

Parents of juniors and seniors and/or students who plan on applying for financial aid are encouraged to attend this meeting.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

The baby's basic wardrobe will be partly determined by where you live and what time of year he or she is born. Remember — don't overstock; babies grow quickly. To start, buy the six-months' size for maximum wear. It's very unnecessary to wrap your baby up in layers and layers of clothing. Most homes today are certainly kept warm enough so that the basic outfit could consist of a diaper and plastic pants, an undershirt, and a nightgown or one-piece jumpsuit. The objective is to keep a baby comfortable — not hot! Overheating causes perspiration and skin rash, especially in the diaper area.

Shopping at TINY TOTLAND is a welcomed experience. Convenient hours ... Open 9-5:30, Mon. & Th. 9-9. Do all of your shopping for baby in one convenient stop. Toys for all ages ... "heaven to seven." Leading brand name furniture and accessories. Over 80 cribs on display. M/C & Visa honored. Come and browse around at TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, N.H., "Where Quality Costs You Less." Tel. 1-603-623-6171.

Final budget trimming ELIMINATES THE DEFICIT school officials feared they might face this year, and they will not ask town meeting for an emergency appropriation of up to $82,000, as previously considered ... Six West Junior High students will compete in state finals of the NATIONAL HISTORY DAY CONTEST in Fall River: the team of Johanna Hohn, Kathleen Jayes and Sandra Liaw; and Rebecca Tynning, Brian Crossfield and Tracy Burkholder ... Donald Lundgren quietly closes the door of AN ANDOVER INSTITUTION — Lundgren Funeral Home, the business his father started in 1913 ... Mr. Lundgren and his wife, Marjorie, will retire to New Hampshire ... Two Andover moms, Laura Edge and Maria Bartlett, team up to design and produce a handsome MAP OF ANDOVER silkscreened on a large cloth play mat for children, dubbed Map-town ... Eileen M. Connolly wins a five-year seat on the ANDOVER HOUSING AUTHORITY in the only contest on the annual town ballot ... with the lowest turnout in recent town history (797 voters), the election costs Andover $6.24 per ballot ... Donald Robb is elected SCHOOL COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN ... and the committee awards tenure to ANDOVER HIGH PRINCIPAL MARY JENNINGS ... Andover figure skater Lindsay McCracken, a member of the Wilmington Figure Skating Club, TAKES A SILVER MEDAL in the juvenile level at the New England Juvenile Figure Skating Championships in Danvers ...

April

Annual town meeting declines to TIGHTEN UP DOWNTOWN PARKING REQUIREMENTS, discounting the Planning Board's argument that freezing the existing parking situation is imperative ... Voters at the annual meeting, which runs two long nights, also approve $7.3 MILLION IN PUBLIC WORKS PROJECTS, including a $6.7 Riverina Road sewage pumping station ... And it's A SPLIT DECISION on two condo proposals, with voters approving one for 29 Shawshen Village luxury townhouses, but disapproving another for 170 "moderately-priced" condos in West Andover ... In other town meeting decisions, voters say "yes" to an Andover Savings Bank branch in River Road's industrial area, but "NO" TO AN ELM STREET FUNERAL HOME proposed by John Caron of North Andover ... Selectman Donn Byrne is elected the NEW CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD ... Four Andover High students, Sue Parker, Spiro Christopoulos, Abby Robb and Robin Garabedian, qualify as MARKETING CHAMPS in a statewide competition ... they'll proceed to a national competition in Kansas City, Mo., in May ... While five Doherty Junior High students become STATE CHESS CHAMPS: Garrett Day, Michael Dow, Pauline Koh, Kevin Murphy and Frank Padellaro make up the winning team ... A furious early-spring snow storm leads to a number of problems at the schools, and 80 Bancroft YOUNGSTERS ARE STRANDED for nearly three hours when their homeward-bound school bus runs off the road ... But LITTLE LEAGUE TRY-OUTS help reassure us that spring will arrive — someday ... According to numbers released by the governor's office, Andover's CRIME RATE DROPPED by 18.7 percent during 1983, compared to 1982 ... The School Committee votes to look for TWO ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENTS instead of one, over the strong opposition of committee member Susan Poore, who terms the addition of another administrative position "a shell game" ... But the committee also votes to abolish six existing administrative positions — so next fall (in language arts, foreign languages, math, occupational education, social studies and science), SIX PROGRAM ADVISORS WILL RETURN TO THE CLASSROOM ... Meaghan Sheehan, 14, of High Plain Road is named MISS

MERRIMACK VALLEY TEENAGER OF 1984, and she's planning to compete in a state pageant in June in Worcester ... Taryn Markey of Hemlock Road, at 13 the youngest competitor in the pageant, is named first runner-up ... Four Andover students distinguish themselves by earning corporate-sponsored four-year college scholarships from the NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP program: Scott Bertetti of Phillips Academy, Kimberly Kupa of Andover High, and Peter Lee and Kathryn Mulvey of Phillips ... A good omen? Both the girls and boys track teams CLAIM VICTORY in Andover High's season opener against the Lawrence Lancers ... After receiving ONLY ONE BID on the $1.4 million town parking lot project — which includes both the Heartland lot off Bartlet Street and the area around new town offices on Bartlet — the town manager puts the project up for a second round of bidding ... And after about a year of trying out a new traffic pattern in Elm Square, the state Public Works department decides that it's okay to TURN RIGHT FROM CENTRAL ONTO MAIN STREET after all (but it's still forbidden to turn right on red at the intersection) ... Blair Wyatt of Algonquin Avenue is named VOLUNTEER OF THE MONTH by the Junior League of Boston, Inc. ... The Merrimack Valley Chapter 78 branch of the Telephone Pioneers of America gifts Andover's special education program with a $38,000 GRANT — made up of funds, equipment and volunteer hours — to offer varied vocational training to students, beginning next September ... A Lynnfield development firm, Charter Development Corp., purchases a one-year option to buy the

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PROPERTY on Frontage Road ... the developers disclose no specifics about their plans for the 6.7-acre site and K of C building ... Andover's entry in the North Shore Indoor Soccer League finals in Saugus CAPTURES THE WINNER'S TROPHY by beating the all-star Internationals of the North Shore 3-0 ... By unanimous vote of the selectmen, the former WEST ANDOVER COMMUNITY CENTER BUILDING on River Road, once the North School and most recently used by C.L.A.S.S., will be demolished ... The Planning Board has some concerns about extensive earth removal planned for JENKINS ESTATES, a 15-lot cluster subdivision proposed for a 23-acre site off Jenkins Road ... And a Planning Board subcommittee will begin meeting with three representatives of downtown merchants to DISCUSS DOWNTOWN ISSUES, including parking ... The town manager says he is RECONSIDERING THE SALE-AND-REPURCHASE PLAN for renovating Memorial Hall Library: A new financing arrangement for the $4.6 million project may be the result, but Manager Kenneth Mahony emphasizes that the project is "still alive" ... Selectman GERALD SILVERMAN will be presented the annual Community Service award by the Joseph G. Koffman Lodge of B'Nai B'Rith at a breakfast at Temple Emanuel next month ... And ARTHUR BEATY, JR. of Wabanaki Way is chosen as an Alfred P. Sloan Fellow of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he will pursue a master of science degree in management ... A group of Andover High School art students, under the direction of teacher James Batchelder, present the School Committee with a mural depicting the HISTORY OF ANDOVER'S SCHOOL BUILDINGS ... 22 schools are represented, from a 1701 grammar school at Wilson's corner in North Andover to the 1983 addition of the Collins Center at AHS ... National Merit Scholars Kathryn Schwarz of Andover High and Robert Yelle of Phillips Academy share the distinction of WINNING $1,000 SCHOLARSHIPS, awarded them for their academic achievements and potential for future success ... River Road residents tell the Planning Board they are not pleased about proposals for two SIDE-BY-SIDE SUBDIVISIONS on the busy roadway, which would add a total of 36 new house lots to River Road ... Nine physician/developers prepare to break ground for a $3-million medical center, including a SURGICAL DAY CARE CENTER, at Doctor's Park on Haverrhill Street ...

May

Plans are still sketchy, but the federal government intends to build a NEW POST OFFICE somewhere in Andover, some two or three years from now ... the existing Main Street building is too small, postal officials say ... The Community Services department, a new information and referral network called Child Care Circuit, and the League of Women Voters are each separately working on what some experts describe as a local CHILD CARE CRISIS ... St. Augustine's Church honors its organist, MARY LANIGAN, with a special day in recognition of her many years of service to the parish ... A Tibetan terrier PUPPY KNOWN AS "GOOCHIE" stars as a social butterfly at Academy Manor Nursing Home ... her owner, food supervisor Eileen Feinberg, brings the puppy to work with her every day, to the delight of residents and employees ... The Doherty Junior High chess champs TRAVEL TO TUCSON, Ariz. to compete in a two-day national tourney ... The town manager decides to put the MEMORIAL HALL LIBRARY PROJECT out to bid as a conventional town building project, as an alternative to the original sale-and-repurchase plan ... that plan, however, still remains a possibility ... Andover School Committee member and former selectman SUSAN T. POORE takes out nomination papers for the state representative's seat, 17th Essex district, now held by Democrat Sue Tucker ... the Republican says her candidacy is not yet official ... Andover's boys and girls track teams TAKE FIRST PLACE in Class A State Relays in competition with 25 teams at Lovely Field ... TODD ORLANDO of Andover, senior center and the second leading scorer in Bentley basketball history, is chosen by "Basketball Weekly" as a second team All-American, Division II ... he's the only New England player selected by the national publication ... A TOWNSMAN study shows that one out of four high-school age students in Andover chooses to ATTEND A PRIVATE SCHOOL, such as Phillips Academy, instead of Andover High School ... Inspired by the town of Lexington, town officials and downtown merchants decide to line Main Street sidewalks with 120 FLOWER-FILLED WHISKEY BARRELS this summer; the town will take care of the barrels, the merchants will take care of the petunias ... THOMAS P. ELDRED of Burnham Road, former chairman of the Andover Housing Authority, dies at age 64 ... Competing against 50 teams from 17 states, the Doherty chess team wins TENTH PLACE at the national junior high school competition in Tucson, Ariz. ... team members Pauline Koh and Kevin Mayberry each take second place in their divisions ... Over neighbors' objections, the Planning Board approves plans for two abutting subdivisions, RIVER EDGE AND HIGH PARK, that will together put 36 new houses on River Road ... parking; the meters are expected to cost 10 cents for one hour, 25 cents for two hours, and 50 cents for four hours ... Boy Scout NICHOLAS K. BATES of Troop 77, West Parish Church, becomes an Eagle Scout, the highest rank a Boy Scout can achieve ... Members of Puncard High School's CLASS OF 1944 celebrate their 40th reunion at the Sheraton-Rolling Green ... Katherine Hoffman, an associate professor of art history at Bradford College and a new Andover resident, publishes a study of the work of artist GEORGIA O'KEEFFE, titled An Enduring Spirit: The Art of Georgia O'Keeffe ... Town Accountant WENDELL MATTHESON retires after 22 years of balancing Andover's books ... Although 57 people apply for the new post of ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT for the secondary schools, only one finalist emerges — so the process of seeking applicants begins all over again ... meanwhile, the School Committee will interview finalists for the assistant superintendent for elementary schools ... And the school department receives an unexpected $16,555 in STATE GRANT MONEY for vocational projects; most will be used to purchase new word processing machines, and the rest for a teaching aide to work with special needs students in the business department ... A HORRIBLES PARADE, BREAK DANCING, A GERMAN BAND AND LOTS OF FOOD highlight Andover's Fourth of July celebration, organized by the Committee for Patriotic Observances ... Susan Poore, Republican candidate for the 17th Essex district seat in the state House of Representatives, launches a campaign to REPEAL A STATE TAX SURCHARGE of seven and one-half percent, instituted by Governor Michael

Dukakis during his last term ... A FIRECRACKER TOSSED INTO A MAILBOX at the corner of School and Essex streets destroys most of the mail inside the box, while a second firecracker destroys several letters in a box at 89 North Main St., in front of the TOWNSMAN office ... The 89-year old MUSGROVE BUILDING in Elm Square is put up for sale by owner Robert Webster, along with the Regency Apartments and three wooden retail buildings on Post Office Avenue ... The Zoning Board of Appeals grants the ANDOVER SAVINGS BANK permission to proceed with its plans for a branch on River Road in West Andover ... LOIS T. HASLAM, former principal of Bancroft and Doherty elementary schools, is appointed assistant superintendent for elementary education, a position she has held in an acting capacity since January ... Charlie Ryan of Andover, coach of the 1983-84 Eastern Mass. Division I champion Lowell High varsity basketball team, is honored as the Bay State's District I COACH OF THE YEAR by the Massachusetts Basketball Coaches Association ... Community Development and Planning Director JONATHAN GILMORE RESIGNS his position, citing a number of personal and professional reasons ... the town manager says he is unsure when, or if, he will replace the director ... To make voting easier during next fall's presidential election, town officials designate the Senior Citizens' Center at the town office building as a SECOND POLLING PLACE for voters from precincts one, three and eight ... other voters will cast their ballots at Dunn Gymnasium, Andover High School, as usual ... Ronald Hajj of Enmore Street, who lost a bid for election to the Andover

Housing Authority in March, is APPOINTED TO THE AUTHORITY by the Board of Selectmen, to fill the vacancy left by the death of Thomas P. Eldred ... The selectmen decide that a FALL TOWN MEETING would be a good idea this year, and schedule a special session for Monday, Nov. 19 ... Finding Yvon Cormier's efforts to stabilize section four of his Andover Country Club development "more than satisfactory," the Planning Board decides to ALLOW WORK TO CONTINUE on the section through the rest of the summer ... The Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team sweeps to its THIRD GREATER LAWRENCE LEAGUE

CHAMPIONSHIP in the last four years, with a winning streak that includes 11 straight games ... Four Andover POLICE OFFICERS ARE COMMENDED by the selectmen for their response during an attempted suicide: The officers are Sgt. Phillip Froburg, Lt. Robert Parker, and Officers Ronald Haggerty and David St. Jean ... The Planning Board is LESS THAN THRILLED by the prospect of a November town meeting, because they have scheduled their current efforts with a spring 1985 deadline in mind ... Margaret Bradshaw is re-elected as chairman of the planners ... DR. CHANDRAKANT M. PATEL of Andover is appointed director of physical medicine and rehabilitation at Whittier Rehabilitation Hospital in Haverhill ... Year-end test scores seem to show that the first year of Andover's NEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL MATH PROGRAM has been a success ... students in grades one through six are consistently scoring at high levels on both national and local exams ... North Andover FUNERAL DIRECTOR JOHN CARON appeals to the Planning Board for their support: He still wants to put a funeral home at 42-44 Elm St., a proposal town meeting rejected in April ... the planners, though, say they still feel his plan amounts to spot zoning ... School officials are searching for a BANCROFT SCHOOL PRINCIPAL to replace Lois Haslam, just promoted to assistant superintendent for elementary schools, and hope to fill the post by Sept. 1 ...

August

A state auditors' report that finds serious fault with Andover's RETIREMENT SYSTEM is called "not even close to being accurate" by the town Board of Retirement chairman, Fire Chief William T. Downs ... Mark Easton of Andover, a Swarthmore College senior, finds a summer job as LEGISLATIVE INTERN to Andover State Rep. Sue Tucker ... The town's littlest schoolchildren get their class and bus assignments for the new early childhood education center at SHAWSHEEN SCHOOL ... that information is mailed to the homes of some 360 kindergarten and readiness students expected to start school next month ... Raytheon's white-collar workers charge the Andover plant with interfering with their ATTEMPTS TO UNIONIZE, and the National Labor Relations Board schedules a hearing on those charges for later this month ... New parking areas around the TOWN OFFICES ON BARTLET STREET are 65 percent complete, the town manager says, and should be finished by Sept. 1 ... Two Andover High graduates receive scholarships from the M/A Com Co. of Burlington: JEFFREY WOLNIK, who will attend Bentley College with the help of his $4,000 scholarship, and DEAN ORFANEDES, who received $5,000 and plans to attend the University of Lowell ... Two Andover Republicans, Susan Poore and Louise Hart, testify at a REPUBLICAN PARTY PLATFORM HEARING at the State House, a prelude to the party's national convention in Dallas later this month ... Andover police charge a 14-year-old Andover boy with a month-long SERIES OF DOWNTOWN BREAK-INS in which small amounts of cash were stolen from a number of business offices ... The School Committee asks the state for $100,000 to REIMBURSE HALF THE COST of its $200,000 efforts to renovate the Shawsheen School into an early childhood education center ... Firefighters spend 20 hours putting out a smoky FIRE AT THE OLD TOWN DUMP on Chandler Road in West Andover ... the fire apparently started spontaneously when heat and gases accumulated in the former landfill ... George Bruce, unofficially known as the MAYOR OF BAL-LARDVALE, celebrates his 85th birthday with festivities at Scanlon's hardware store, where he has worked as a part-time clerk and cashier for the past 16 years ... An ANDOVER LAND-MARK, the Musgrove Building in Elm Square, comes under a $3.3-million purchase and sale agreement between owner Robert Webster and the Liberty Group, a Danvers investment group ... three Post Office Avenue buildings and the Regency Apartments are also part of the deal ... New state aid for Andover, an UNEXPECTED BONUS of $264,068, is approved by the state legislature ... Charles and Barbara Richmond tell the Planning Board they are considering building a SHOPPING CENTER on property they own at 68-84 Essex St., where eight townhouse apartments now stand; they'd prefer, however, to build 24 new apartments on the site ... Andover student Ellin Baunel, a senior at the University of Rochester, joins Susan Poore's campaign staff as a RESEARCH AIDE ... Poore is the Republican candidate for the state rep's seat, 17th Essex district ... FIVE SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS who volunteered to take on extra duties after Assistant Superintendent Charles Mitsakos left the school department this year are rewarded with surprise bonuses of $750 each ... the stipends will be drawn from Mitsakos' leftover salary ... Andover police respond with assistance during TWO NIGHTS OF VIOLENCE in a Lawrence neighborhood, the Oxford and Haverhill street area ... the Northeast Municipal Law Enforcement Council Tactical Police Force, which includes Andover officers, is also called to the scene of street fighting and fire bombings ... Bowing to the wishes of the Planning Board, the selectmen CANCEL THEIR FALL TOWN MEETING plans — but add that they very well may call a special town meeting in the fall of 1985 ... Valle's Steak House on River Road will soon be sold to a Canadian restaurant chain, the selectmen learn, and renamed LE BIFTHEQUE, "la plus grande maison de bifteck en ville (the biggest steakhouse in town)" ... The lifeguard staff at Pomp's Pond is cited for their "exceptional conduct" in RESCUING A DROWNING MAN ... the selectmen vote to send letters of commendation to lifeguards Michael Maher, Richard Conron, Victoria Robb, Margery Safran, Carolyn Bishop and Patrick Robb ... A $3.7 MILLION BID on the Memorial Hall Library renovation project could mean a $1.1 million saving on the project, estimated at a total $5.2 million ... the town manager is now contemplating selling the library to a bank-owned trust for $1, and later buying it back for the same price, as a new financing alternative ... Meanwhile, the NEW LANDSCAPING around town offices in the old East Junior High School wings and Central Park should be completed by Oct. 1, the manager says ... As school opening day approaches, Bancroft School is still WITHOUT A PRINCIPAL, but 49 have applied for the job ... Andover High School alumna KIM STAMAS is hired as the new recreation program coordinator for the Community Services department, succeeding David O'Neill ... John Caron of the Caron Funeral Home, North Andover, will make his case for an ELM STREET FUNERAL HOME before the Zoning Board of Appeals next month, requesting a variance to open a funeral home at 42-44 Elm St., in a residential zone ... Thousands of dollar bills recovered from the just-opened safe of the SUNKEN ANDREA DORIA will be restored, and perhaps made suitable for circulation once again, at the Northeast Document Conservation Center on School Street ... three years ago, explorer Peter Gimbel brought the safe up from the luxury liner, which sank off the coast of Nantucket in July 1956 after colliding with another passenger ship ... Most Valuable Player honors go to talented GLENN ALLARD as the Andover Blue and Gold Babe Ruth 14-year-old All Stars capture the championship in the fifth annual Waltham Invitational tournament ... D & L Development Corp. of Methuen files plans for a 28-lot cluster subdivision on what is now Dargoonian Brothers farm off Blanchard Street in West Andover — considered by some THE BEST FARM IN ANDOVER, and a farm that town meeting tried to preserve as farmland three years ago ... Daniel Morin tells the Planning Board he'd like to have his residential property at 72 PARK ST. rezoned for general business use ... the site is on the edge of the existing central business district ... A report compiled by the Municipal Maintenance department finds that VANDALISM TO SCHOOL BUILDINGS cost Andover more than $46,000 from April 11 to Nov. 30, 1983, and from Jan. 1 to June 1, 1984; the most costly repairs have been at Andover High ($20,000), although Doherty Junior High is vandals' most frequent target ... Bancroft third-grade teacher Delores Pelc is appointed ACTING PRINCIPAL at that school until a new principal is chosen from among 49 applicants for the position ... Temple Emanuel, Haggetts Pond Road, honors Lawrence resident LILLIAN KES-

SEL, who's retiring after serving as secretary to the temple's Religious School for 27 years ... Senator Patricia McGovern (D-Second Essex and Middlesex) announces that she will SEEK RE-ELECTION for a third term in the Massachusetts Senate ... And the Andover School of Ballet, directed by Palestinian-born Mara Meir, will celebrate its TENTH ANNIVERSARY next month ...

September

Andover's 22 school administrators head back to school WITHOUT A CONTRACT; negotiations that began last spring have been suspended since school vacation started in June ... A new crop of 46 candidates have applied for the position of assistant superintendent of secondary schools in the SECOND ROUND OF SCREENINGS to fill that vacancy; the first round ended with only one candidate in the running ... Four Merrimack Valley cultural and arts groups are awarded a total of $75,900 in STATE GRANT MONEY by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities: the Northeast Document Conservation Center of Andover receives $52,000; the Immigrant City Archives of Lawrence, $7,500; the Lawrence Choral Arts Society of Methuen, $4,000; and the Museum of American Textile History of North Andover, $12,400 ... FR. TERRANCE HYLAND, O.S.A., is appointed associate pastor and prior of the Augustinian community at St. Augustine's parish ... Town Manager Kenneth Mahony sets an OCT. 1 DEADLINE for awarding the $5.2 million contract on the Memorial Hall Library renovation project ... THOMAS M. FEELEY of Andover is elected President-elect of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, Inc. (MSCPA), and will take office in May, 1985 ... The idea of a new personnel administrator, to be SHARED BY THE TOWN AND SCHOOLS, draws a mixed reaction from the School Committee: only three members clearly support creating that new position, and one (Susan Poore) is clearly opposed ... a state grant would pay 75 percent of the new administrator's $30,000-plus salary next year ... The Zoning Board of Appeals turns down a request by the Howe Agency for a special permit, or a variance, to build a NEW PARKING LOT for 17 cars at 6 Punchard Ave.,

next to the agency ... Junior Achievement of Canada honors one of the earliest captains of Canadian industry, JOB ABBOT, an engineer, patent lawyer, entrepreneur and Andover native whose Dominion Bridge Company built railroad bridges all across Canada ... Abbot was born in Andover in 1845, and died here in 1896 ... IORA

Sugarman-Jones

Karen Fisher Jones and Paul Jeffrey Sugarman were married November 25 at the groom's home at 8 Germano Way, Andover.

Elden Salter, Town Clerk of Andover, officiated at the noon ceremony.

A reception was held at the groom's home following the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Ediles Fisher and the late Harold Fisher of Alexandria, La., is a graduate of Northeast Louisiana University. She is self employed as an interior decorator and is the owner of Curtain Calls.

Her husband, the son of Mrs. Lillian Sugarman and the late Sydney Sugarman of Swampscott, is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of M.I.T. He is an executive at Statler Industries in Medford.

The couple will reside in Andover, following a wedding trip to Aruba.

The first television cook was Marcel Boulestin who demonstrated how to cook an omelet on English TV in 1937.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

No matter where a sink is placed, it must have adequate space on either side. The left side, if you are right-handed, will be used for stacking soiled dishes and the right side for draining anything washed by hand. The countertop near the sink will also be used during food preparation for washing fresh vegetables and fruits, arranging flowers in vases and other tasks. If a folding dish drainer is used or a place is provided to hang a traditional plastic drainer, the worktop to the right of the sink will be doubly useful. In England, dish drainers are suspended over the sink or counter or at the bottom of a wall cabinet. These are useful arrangements that we can copy.

For the most modern and practical ideas in kitchens visit WINDSOR KITCHENS at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill. We feature numerous styles of cabinets in a wide range of colors and finishes these cabinets exhibit a variety of ideas in kitchen layouts. Instead of a traditional sink, why not try a center island sink/work area. This provides a complete work top with sink, plus storage below, and allows for more than one cook in the kitchen. Whatever your desire for a useful and meaningful kitchen we can design it for you. Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri til 8, Sat til 2. Tel. 372-3444.

Concert

On Tuesday, Jan. 15, at 7 p.m., Tom Gallant and his Dixieland Band will perform a concert in Phillips Church on Front Street. Members of the band are Dick Creeden on trumpet, Jerry Fuller on clarinet, Don Doane on trombone, Jim Howe on bass, Les Harris on drums, and Tom Gallant at the piano. All six musicians have played with a variety of groups and have been associated with many jazz greats. Each has his own band, but several times a year they get together in this particular combination, usually under the leadership of the person in whose hometown they are playing.

Jazz Dance

The University of Massachusetts Dance Ensemble, under the directorship of Richard Jones, will perform a free program of modern and jazz dance at the Museum of Our National Heritage, 33 Marrett Road, Lexington, on Sunday, Jan. 6, at 3 p.m. The ensemble is made up of university dance majors. This performance has been made possible through the cooperation of Project L.E.A.P. (Lexington's Educational Arts Program) which for the last 11 years has brought visual and performing artists to the school and community.

Museum admission and parking are free. Museum hours on Sunday will be from 12 noon to 5 p.m. Tickets will be distributed on a first-come, first served basis, beginning at 2 p.m.

Films

Two films detailing the opening of the American west will be shown at the Museum of Our National Heritage, 33 Marrett Road, Lexington, Jan. 20, at 3 p.m. The films relate to the newest museum exhibition, "Maps: A Decade of Collecting," which brings together 68 maps from the 17th through 19th century.

"Canals West" uses photographs, art work, maps and film footage to tell the story of the great canal era in U.S. history. The engineering problems involved in canal building and daily life on a four-mile-an-hour passenger packet are described.

Museum hours on Sunday are 12 noon to 5 p.m. Admission and parking are free. Ticket for the films will be distributed beginning at 2 p.m.

A band of diamonds that says you'd marry her all over again.

The Board of Selectmen and town manager are hoping to put a new fire station on Woburn Street land adjoining South School, in Ballardvale.

But Andover Fire Chief William Downs would rather have two new fire stations, a new building in Ballardvale and another in the southern section of town. Realistically Downs knows one new building may be in the town's future and he wants a southern-based station instead of the Ballardvale building other town officials have in mind.

The disagreement about where to put a new fire station, that in all probability won't be built for two years, surfaced when Selectman Chairman Donn Byrne asked the School Committee to support a Town Meeting warrant article to transfer a parcel of school-controlled land to the town for a new fire station.

Because the Town Meeting warrant closes on Jan. 7, Byrne discussed the matter with the school board at their last meeting on Dec. 18. The School Committee voted unanimously to support the selectmen's article, with member Susan Poore absent.

In a telephone interview on Friday Chief Downs told THE TOWNSMAN he was unaware the selectmen were asking for the land transfer. Instead of putting a new station in Ballardvale, to take the place of the station there at the corner of Clark and Andover Streets, Downs said he would like a fourth station somewhere. He suggested locating a fourth station south of Salem Street near Rt. 125 and Harold Parker State Forest. But, the chief added, his ideas for a new station are at odds with those of the Selectmen and Town Manager Kenneth Mahony.

"I want two stations and they want one," Downs said. "If they build a new building there (Ballardvale), they aren't going to give me more fire protection. Buildings don't put out fires."

Downs concedes the Ballardvale building is in rough shape. He has tried to replace it for ten years, he said. And, Downs said, the town's Finance Committee has heard his pleas for a south station.

"I don't know where I go from here," said Downs. "The town manager is going off one way and I'm off another."

But this year Town Meeting won't act on appropriations for another fire station, said Finance Committee Chairman Edward E. Kulcsar. The board hasn't discussed funding for another station, he told THE TOWNSMAN on Monday. And with the town budget presentation to the FinCom set for the week of Jan. 20, Kulcsar said, there has been no talk of another station this year.

Town Manager Mahony said it was possible Town Meeting voters will discuss another station in 1986. But before then the subject won't come to a town vote. Mahony said he will spend $25,000 to $30,000 to design and bid out a station site this year. Byrne said that money would be appropriated at Town Meeting for the design and bidding but Mahony said he would move existing funds around to get the money for the design job without bringing the matter to a town vote.

The town manager called the South School site the best town land for another station, something, he said, that has been talked about for 15 years.

"It (the Ballardvale station) is not structurally adequate," Mahony said. "There isn't enough room, conditions are marginal, it is in the wrong place in the middle of a congested area and has to cross train tracks to get to a fire on the industrial land. All you have to do is walk into that building and understand why we want to have it some place else."

Neither Mahony nor Byrne knew the size of the Ballardvale parcel the town hopes to transfer from school control. Byrne estimated the land was the size of a house lot. It is located at the southern end of the Woburn Street land, he said.

Andover now has three fire stations. The main station is located on North Main Street and there are branch stations in Ballardvale and West Andover. Three firefighters and a pumper are located in each small station, said Downs.

Tax Program

Salem State College faculty in the business administration program are sponsoring a "VITA," Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program, January 7, 8, 9 and 10 from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in Room HB 101 South Campus Harrington Building.

The program is a training series to qualify attendees to assist lower income, elderly, non-English speaking and disadvantaged individuals in the preparation of the tax program.

The free seminars are taught by I.R.S. specialists.

To register, call the business administration department at the college.

Roadblock

Commissioner of Public Safety Frank J. Trabucco announced today that a "Drunk Driving Roadblock" will be manned by the Massachusetts State Police on State Highways to further educate the motoring public and strengthen the public awareness to the need of detecting and removing those motorists who operate under the influence of alcohol and drugs. They will be operated during various hours, the selection of vehicles will not be arbitrary.

A "Drunk Driving Roadblock" will be in the county of Essex County on Dec. 28 thru 31.

Manager Reflects On Year Of Unprecedented Growth

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The past year has been one of unprecedented growth for the town of Andover, "by far the biggest year Andover has ever known," Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said during a conversation at his office earlier this month.

Andover's "tremendous growth" during 1984 — which, the manager predicted, "will be surpassed next year and the following year" — was dominated by industrial development, but also featured the renovation and expansion of downtown properties, and a healthy crop of new houses as well.

New industrial construction during this year has been "massive," Manager Mahony commented. High-tech plants springing up along River Road in West Andover make up most of the new building, but industry can also be seen flourishing on Dascomb and Frontage roads and on Osgood Street, he said.

The Lowell Junction industrial area, near the Wilmington town line, "has not expanded, largely because of the traffic situation," the manager said. Like the town fathers, Lowell Junction industries are waiting to see how Andover and state officials will solve the decades-old problem of too much industrial traffic on Ballardvale's residential streets.

(Andover would still like to see a Lowell Junction interchange off Route 93; state officials still appear to think that unfeasible.)

However, Mahony noted, many existing industrial properties in Ballardvale have been renovated during the past year: He cited the continuing restoration of the historic Marland Mills property into office space as a prime example.

Existing industrial sites have also been rehabilitated at, for instance, Dundee Park, the old Hardy Brush building and the former American Woolen Mills/Raytheon complex on Haverhill street, and the Raytheon plant off Lowell Street.

Downtown, 1984 saw new building at the Andover Savings Bank offices on Main Street, the renovation of Lundgren

Funeral Home into Rembrandt's restaurant on Elm Street, and the renovation of the former Town Printing site into new office space on Essex Street.

Compared to industrial and business growth, new housing made up a small part of Andover's 1984 boom, Mahony said. Still, there are "well in excess of nine-hundred housing lots in the process of development right now," the manager noted.

Together, new construction and renovations put extra pressure on the always-busy Community Development and Planning department, which also lost its director when Jonathan Gilmore resigned last summer.

(Renovations are actually harder for the town to handle, the manager said, because when old buildings are remodeled for new uses, "We have to make sure buildings are improved, rather than destroyed.")

The manager praised everyone in the department, from staffers to the volunteer boards and commissions that oversee development in Andover.

"The Community Development staff should really be commended, because in the middle of this, I shifted gears for them into an enforcement mode," Mahony added. Now that the new development that's been anticipated for years is "on top of us, we've got to shift into enforcement" to ensure that that development proceeds in an "appropriate" manner, he explained.

Andover is now hitting the middle of a four-year "maturing" period, the manager said: "As the community economically matures from 1983 to 1987, there's going to be that switch into maturity, into a different phase. The frantic development will stop — and values of property will increase even more dramatically when there's no more room for new building."

This year, for example, the town helped the Andover Village Improvement Society (A.V.I.S.) clean up fallen tree limbs and debris on A.V.I.S. property, for the first time. That kind of effort reflects "the needs of a maturing community," the manager said.

The year that is about to end held several major accomplishments for Andover, among them the move into new town and school offices in two renovated wings of the former East Junior High School. "We moved in here," Mahony said, glancing around his new office. "That has got to be a highlight."

Spring town meeting's approval of a $6.7 million appropriation to replace the aging Riverina Road sewage pumping station ranks as another highlight, the manager said. Construction has been delayed all year while town officials have sought state funding, but at this point Mahony is optimistic that Andover will receive state assistance on the project.

Last fall, Public Works crews completed major improvements to water mains in various parts of town including Haverhill, Beacon and Salem streets and Highland Road.

DPW also managed to reduce the amount of sodium in the town water supply "substantially," the manager said, from 29 milligrams per liter, or parts per million, to 21 mg/l. The state has established 20 mg/l as the Maximum Contaminant Level, so while Andover's sodium level is "still over where it should be, we have reduced it by about one-third."

On the negative side, the manager is not happy about the taste and odor Andover's water acquired this year, thanks to an increase in the algae population in Haggetts Pond. State and town inspectors finished testing town water on Dec. 1 and found it to be of good quality, "but I still don't like to drink it, or snell it," Mahony said.

"We're looking into some alternatives to try to stop it from happening again, but this is something that happens in every reservoir," he added.

Absentee Policy Will Be Discussed By School Board

The School Committee put off until January discussion on the schools' absentee policies at their last meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 18, after board member Robert F. Smith told his colleagues he would like to discuss the matter.

Smith said he had seen a television special on the subject while on a trip to Southern Maine and read an article in the Dec. 13 issue of THE TOWNSMAN about an Andover man trying to institute a townwide policy of checking on students not in school to make sure they are at home — and not in danger elsewhere.

George S. "Russ" Moran, 20 Brookfield St., wrote a letter to THE TOWNSMAN urging the adoption of a policy similar to one he helped start at Bancroft Elementary School last year.

Each morning at the Bancroft Road school sixth graders take telephone messages from 8:15 to 8:45 a.m., when parents call to say their children will be absent. If a call hasn't been received from a parent, and the child is not in class, the school nurse calls the home, according to Bancroft Principal Iora Al-

Smith told School Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert he wanted information about what is done in the town's schools. Seifert later said he thought it "unfair" that one parent said not enough was being done in the schools.

No January date has been set for discussion on the absentee policy but the board will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 8, and Tuesday, Jan. 22, at 7:30 p.m., in the second floor meeting room in the school administration building, off Whittier Street.

Budget Sections Approved

By Susan Rand

Three areas of next year's school budget were unanimously approved at the last School Committee meeting.

School Committee expenditures, transportation and custodian budgets were given their first approval of the three votes each of the 23 expense categories and 15 salary totals will receive before the budget is finalized.

The total budget for fiscal '86 is set at $16,120,555, some 9.9 percent over last year's total of $14,655,000. That total may change when other town boards begin talks about the budget as Town Meeting nears.

Committee member Susan T. Poore had asked that the School Committee budget be discussed in depth at the Dec. 19 meeting when information was not available about that budget item at the Dec. 4 meeting. But Poore was absent from last week's meeting when the budget was approved.

School Committee expenditures are up 22 percent to $10,000 over last year's $8,000 appropriation. The budget includes $500 in supplies, $2,500 in copying costs and $3,050 worth of contracted services that include a recording secretary paid $2,400, $450 for the Massachusetts Association of School Committees (MASC) meeting and $200 in mileage costs to deliver information packets to the committee members. Also in the budget is $3,950 in other costs such as MASC and Merrimack Valley dues and $2,300 for special projects, which this year include tabulation of a secondary school survey.

The custodian budget shows a minimal increase in the cost of supplies from $48,600 spent last year to $48,970 for fiscal '86. The custodian salaries are up 5.5 percent to $670,432 from last year's $633,090. A new contract with the town's 37 full-time custodians was approved by the committee last Tuesday.

The transportation budget went to $637,910 this year from last year's $637,899, an increase of only $21, in expenses. Salaries will run $19,260, for the transportation coordinator, up 7 percent from $18,000 last year.

Looking Ahead

There were at least 52 musicians in the family of famous composer Johann Sebastian Bach.

Improvements to the roadway are in store. They will also continue working toward improvements to the Lowell Junction area, where industrial traffic remains a serious problem for Ballardvale residents.

New growth will bring with it "increased and improved police and fire protection, including our ambulance service, because there'll be more people to protect," Mahony said.

Several town projects originally scheduled for construction during 1984 will finally be built during the coming year, the manager hopes.

These will probably include a new addition and renovations to Memorial Hall Library, completion of a new town parking lot off Bartlet Street (at the site of the former Heartland Jr. grocery store), and a sewage pumping station off Haverhill Street to replace the old Riverina Road station.

Work on the library and parking lot will inevitably lead to greater "congestion problems downtown," the manager commented, "but we'll try to get it over with quickly."

Municipal Maintenance will have a full agenda for 1985, he added, particularly in its "greens" division, because the manager intends to see "an awfully lot of emphasis placed on the maintenance of parks and playing fields. And not only maintenance, but improvement."

The department will also be kept busy catching up on projects it didn't get around to last year while staffers were working on the Shawsheen School, converting it into an early childhood education center in time for September's school opening.

Townpeople may see some changes in their weekly trash pick-up routines next year, when the new solid waste disposal facility opens in North Andover with Andover as one of its customers. The manager said he was not sure "to what extent" the new facility might affect Andover's trash collection and recycling program.

The manager hadn't completed his budget forecast for the next year yet, but he did predict that "in a growing community with a tax limitation like Proposition 2½, most every year is a tough year."

"Determining priorities from among the almost unlimited wants from the citizens is extremely difficult — you can only spend a nickel once. And we're going to have very limited nickels again."

With the warrant scheduled to close Monday, Jan. 7, the agenda for annual town meeting also remains uncertain. Mahony foresees, however, a predominance of "very small things, not exotic things" on the warrant.

Voters may be asked to rezone two or three residential lots for business use — which would represent the first steps toward expansion of the Central Business District. Changes to the zoning bylaws on parking and a new section on multiple-family housing are strong possibilities as well.

In addition, the annual meeting may have a chance to approve a site for a new fire station in Ballardvale, expansion of the town parking lot off Main Street (next to Olde Andover Village), traffic lights and other improvements to River Road, new street lights for Shawsheen Village, and the acquisition of more conservation land to protect the Fish Brook watershed.

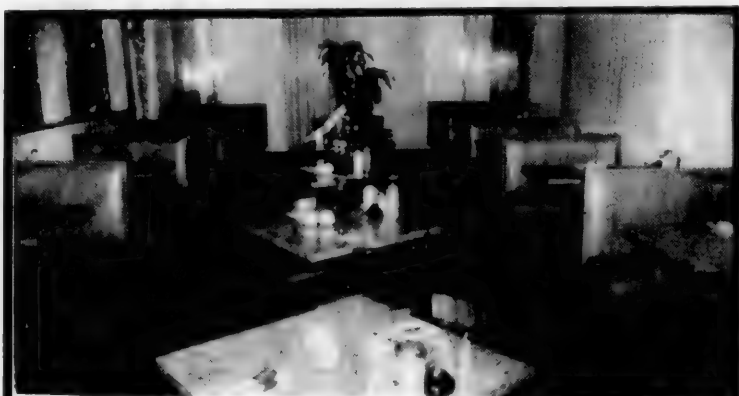

"I expect to see a lot of articles, and a lot of reasonably important articles," Mahony said, "but not many to stir people up terribly. There won't be much on building, rezoning and reuse as in past years."

"Priorities in Andover are pretty well established," the manager commented. "The people here want development, but they're somewhat apprehensive about what it will be like — they want it controlled."

"They want the downtown maintained, and they want traditional values maintained. They want people treated fairly — they want the town to operate by the Golden Rule."

Joking that he is now "on the downhill side" of his five-year contract after three years in Andover, Mahony said he was "really looking forward to the next year. I'm grateful for the support I've gotten from the selectmen, the School Committee, various other committees — and the citizens."

The earth travels around the sun at the speed of 1,100 miles a minute.

Phillips Academy Faculty To Visit USSR

Phillips Academy in Andover will send a large portion of its faculty to the Soviet Union next July in an attempt to establish Soviet-American ties through education and bring back a better understanding of Russian culture. The group, numbering 99 faculty members and spouses, close to one-third of the faculty, will include teachers of English, computer science, history, biology and music, as well as the Protestant chaplain, the Rabbi and key administrators. The purpose of the trip, and the inclusion of faculty from all disciplines, is to enhance the faculty's knowledge of Soviet culture and produce a long-term effect on every aspect of the education offered to students.

The three-week trip, preceded by three weeks of intensive study in the Russian language and culture, will include stops in Moscow, Tbilisi, Yerevan, Kiev and Leningrad. Plans are being made for the Americans to visit with officials at Moscow State University, as well as with secondary school educators, to compare the educational methods of the Russian system with those of the United States. The travel arrangements have been made with the help of the Citizen's Exchange Council, a non-profit organization specializing in the promotion of cultural exchange.

The Russian department, which has existed at Andover for several years, has sent advanced students to the USSR annually as part of their course work. This trip, however, represents a unique opportunity for the school to expand the influence of the department as well as to conduct a pioneering effort in establishing a comprehensive understanding of Soviet culture.

Funded largely through the gifts of Donald Kendall, chairman of the board of PepsiCo Inc. and the father of an Andover student, the opportunity comes as the latest in a series of gifts from Kendall to provide more opportunities for students to actively engage in the study of the Russian language and culture. Last year Kendall provided computer equipment for the department, allowing Andover to develop the first word-processing system designed for use by students in the Russian language. During the past five years, enrollment in the department has grown from approximately 30 students to more than 100 annually.

A New Year

A new year is about to dawn, with its prospect of hope and new beginnings.

There is, at this time of year, the opportunity to pause after the joyous holiday just passed, to think about the events of this past year and look optimistically toward a new 12-month period.

As in past years, as the midnight hour approaches Monday, we will assign the joys and sadness of this past year to history and look forward to brighter days in the year ahead, hopeful that in the year ahead we shall continue to work toward the improvement in the quality of life for all and strive to attain world peace.

As is customary at this time of year, there will be resolves to do better. To improve our personal lives, to better our environment, to eliminate hunger and poverty, to bring about peace through love, understanding and brotherhood rather than through the foreboding threat of nuclear arms.

While all of this seems an insurmountable task at times, such goals are attainable. They can be accomplished because most of the problems we face have been created by people, thus they can likewise be resolved by people.

With a new year approaching, with the hope of better things to come, let us anticipate that 1985 will bring the creation of a peaceful world and improvement in the universal quality of life.

Looking optimistically toward 1985, it is our hope it will be a year filled with health and happiness.

A Happy New Year to all!

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — December 1909

May the New Year be a happy and prosperous one for all readers of the Townsman. "May the mouse ne'er leave your meal bag with a tear in his e'e."

There are several cases of mumps and measles reported in town.

Several residents of Andover who spent Saturday and Sunday out of town had great difficulty in returning home on account of the storm and the tying up of traffic in consequence. Andover was extremely fortunate in not experiencing the terrible discomforts and privations that many New England cities and towns suffered during the storm on Saturday and Sunday.

A large and enthusiastic party made up of members of the Natural History Society went to Boston yesterday and spent the day in visiting the rooms of the Boston Natural History Society and the new Museum of Fine Arts.

The Andover boys still continue to take high places in the scholarship at Phillips. It is always gratifying to see the names of Andover boys in the honor list, and from all accounts those who are numbered in the Roll of Honor for the Spring term are among the best students that have attended Phillips for many years. Congratulations to them and to the school that is training them.

50 Years Ago — December 1934

Any resume of the year 1934 in Andover would of course have to start with the new school project; the first thing usually taken up at meetings following the reading of the minutes is unfinished business, and there is no doubt that the new school is the outstanding example of unfinished business. Then there was the record high tax rate; the rate itself comes under unfinished business, because there always has to be a tax rate, but it is hoped that the record rate is finished.

One of the worst gales Andover has had in years tore through the town Wednesday night and early Thursday morning causing much damage. The drying apparatus located on the roof of the Tyer Rubber Company, North Main Street, was blown from its moorings and crashed to the ground, carrying with it a large section of glass, at 9.15 a.m. At 8.45 o'clock a large sign located above a barber shop at 46 Main St. was blown down. A window in the Hartigan pharmacy was smashed when the wind crashed it to the sidewalk on Chestnut St. about 8.30. Instead of blowing it in, it sucked it out so that very little glass remained in the store.

Nineteen liquor licenses were granted by the Selectmen Monday afternoon. Of these eight were only for wines and malt beverages. Only one change was made by the Selectmen, and that was the substitution of a wine and malt beverage license for James Heifetz instead of a full license.

25 Years Ago — December 1959

Public opposition has been blamed for the decision of proponents of a sports center to withdraw their re-zoning request for an area along North Main st. The Selectmen have received a letter from Arthur Collins, who represented the businessmen, stating that they have decided to withdraw. The business people had proposed a three-building sports center on what was the Golden Farm, next to Shawsheen Plaza. There had been some public sentiment against the proposal from residents who live in the area on the western side of North Main st., and from other quarters.

Three West Andover residents escaped from their rapidly-burning home early Tuesday morning, as the temperature hovered near the ten-degree mark. Mrs. Victorian Belul, her daughter Virginia Zatta, and her grandson, James W. Kuzminsky, fled their Blanchard st. residence about 2.35 a.m. after discovering their two-story home was on fire. Chief Henry L. Hilton commented on how fortunate the family was to discover the blaze when they did, for it had eaten under the second story floors and had also found its way into the blind attic overhead.

The Selectmen have decided to keep the dump open until 7 p.m. Wednesdays — to meet the needs of residents who can not use the municipal facility during the day. The dump will open Wednesdays at 10 a.m., instead of the usual time two hours earlier. On the other five days of the week, the hours will remain 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

10 Years Ago — December 1974

With Christmas spirit reaching its peak, shoppers scurried throughout the downtown area Monday and today completing their last minute Santa duties, in anticipation of the annual festive observance on Wednesday. Downtown Andover was a busy place as the final hours before Christmas approached, with busy shoppers completing their Christmas lists. Adding a festive touch to the shopping scene was the appearance of Santa Claus along the Main Street. Youngsters were able to get in some last minute requests as parents shopped and somewhat apprehensively listened as their offspring may have made some adjustments in their original working list they had submitted to Santa.

Ms. Pat Trill of Andover, CPA and acting instructor at Salem State College, was elected treasurer of the 21,000 member International Arabian Horse Association (IAHA)

Opposes Center

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I am deeply moved by the sentiment of the Ristuccia family in their desire to preserve the memory of their mother, Elinor M. Ristuccia, by donating a memorial recreational arena to the town. I do not believe, however, that such a facility would be a benefit to the town of Andover or to whatever neighborhood in which such a facility might be constructed. Such a facility would create an atmosphere in Andover similar to that which prevails in the town of Foxboro which must contend with a large arena and the type of traffic such a facility generates. Associated with a structure of this sort are traffic problems, parking problems and problems with vandalism. These types of facilities tend to act as a magnet for rowdies and the drug culture.

It is important that the citizens of Andover appreciate the fact that change does not necessarily equate with progress and that to destroy a virgin forest which abuts the Harold Rafton Reservation in the Cross Street location would be a devastating blow to the tranquility of the town and the habitat of many creatures which make Andover the desirable town which it is.

To espouse cutting the forest and building an arena with its associated parking lots and supportive facilities is to adopt a shopping-mall mentality. This would be unfortunate in that much of this land relates environmentally to the Fishbrook Watershed and run-off from a large asphalt covered parking lot would inundate that water system with an excess volume of water and contaminate it with road chemicals.

There is truly little or no need in Andover for a three-to-seven-thousand-seat arena. Such a facility will not increase the quality of life, will not enhance the education of our children, will not substantially increase the income of the town's business persons, nor will it provide diversion or entertainment for the vast majority of the residents of the town. Rather it will destroy a beautiful residential section in West Andover, will contaminate a watershed, will plunder land initially designated for school use, will damage an adjacent wild life reservation, will remove from recreational use a significant forest and will uglify the map of Andover.

Perhaps the town of Wilmington acted wisely in rejecting the generous offer of the Ristuccia family. The town of Andover should also say thank you, but no thanks.

Developer Would Drain Pond

The celebrated Regent, or Pitt Diamond, which weighed 410 carats in the rough, was found in India in 1701 and later purchased by Sir Thomas Pitt, who sold it to the French crown. Later, Napoleon had it set in his sword hilt.

To solve the problems associated with a pond located on the site of a proposed West Andover subdivision, the developer would like to drain the pond, the Planning Board learned last week.

Developer Timothy "Ted" Sullivan of Andover has submitted definitive plans for Granli Estates, a 23-lot cluster subdivision off Bellevue Road. Preliminary plans for the 34.7-acre site called for leaving an existing pond as part of the subdivision's 11.8 acres of open space.

The parcel is currently the site of Vartabedian Brothers farm, where the pond in question was created to irrigate the fields.

During a recent public hearing on the proposal, abutters said they were concerned that the pond would be dangerous to children in the area. Staff planner Stephen Colyer of the Community Development and Planning department said the flat-bottomed pond is four to five feet deep and surrounded by steep banks.

The planners were also concerned about who would own and maintain the pond — indicating that the town would rather not own it as part of the permanent open space.

Sullivan had proposed forming a homeowners' association, made up of residents of the new subdivision, to own and maintain the pond. However, creating such an association posed complex legal problems, Colyer told the planners.

Last Tuesday night, Colyer told the board that Sullivan would now like to drain the pond, and create a brook in its place. The open space would be deeded to the town — the usual procedure with cluster subdivisions — and linked to open space in Stouffer Circle, a new development located next to Granli Estates.

With the pond eliminated, the open space would be safer, more attractive and easier to maintain, Colyer indicated; draining the pond would also eliminate the need to create a homeowners' association.

Sullivan discussed the idea with the Conservation Commission last Thursday night, but the commission continued that discussion until Jan. 17.

Virginia Hammond of the conservation commission staff explained yesterday that the commission would like more information about how the proposal would affect wetlands in the area, and further "justification" for draining the pond.

The commissioners were "neutral" on the question of whether it would be desirable to drain the pond, Hammond said. She noted that the conservation commission could not rule on safety concerns, but could only consider protection of the wetlands when they vote on the developer's plans.

If the conservation commission and planning board agree to the draining of the pond, Colyer said last week, the planners would have to modify their approval of preliminary subdivision plans for Granli Estates, which included the pond.

The board has a Jan. 11 deadline for acting on definitive subdivision plans for Granli Estates.

Intermediate League Results

By Jennifer Tucker

St. Robert's E 18

St. Augustine's D 6

Paul Durant, Mark Baker and Reed Newton started St. Robert's scoring streak early by contributing two points each in the first quarter. Brett Cox sank a first-quarter basket for St. Augustine's Dan Moynihan's four-second-quarter points lengthened St. Robert's lead, despite another basket by Cox. St. Robert's strong defense held St. Augustine's scoreless for the entire second half, while Newton and Chris Jarek tallied eight points to bring the final score to 18-6 in St. Robert's favor.

St. Augustine's E 14

Ballardvale United 17

In even first-quarter play, both teams had gained four points; St. Augustine's E came from James Landry and Jon Lane while Brian Novelline scored Ballardvale's. Novelline and Mike Henry established a second-quarter lead by scoring two points each and keeping St. A's to only one point (scored by John Shea). Each team tallied nine points in the second half. Despite valiant scoring efforts by St. Augustine's Jamey Lionette, James Landry and Shea, the Ballardvale team was able to hold onto its lead with points by Novelline, Henry and Steve White for a final score of 17-14.

St. Augustine's B 8 - St. Robert's D 32

St. Robert's proved to be a very strong offensive team, defeating St. Augustine's by 32-8. Matt Reghitto, Eric Ancotta and Michael Kelley scored 12 first-quarter points while St. Augustine's B only points came from a basket by Paul Bernardin. Kelly contributed six second-quarter points; Peter Caramanes, Michael Marchlik and Ancotta scored for St. Robert's. Jason Clark's lone basket for St. A's was their only second-quarter scoring. Brian Workman, Caramanes and Reghitto gave St. Robert's eight points in the second half while Chris Lembo and Matt Harris brought St. A's score to 8 points.

St. Robert's F 16

St. Augustine's C 21

In a fourth quarter come-from-behind victory, St. Augustine's C put down a tough St. Robert's F team. St. Robert's was ahead at the end of the first quarter with six points from Jonathan Merenda, Ian Timmons and Teddy Fazio. Don Lane's basket was St. A's only score in the first quarter but they established a lead in the second quarter with five points from Tim Parker and two from Jamie D'Angelo. Eric Friesse scored two points for St. Robert's. Fazio's four points in the third quarter put St. Robert's in the lead, despite Don Hinchey's efforts for St. A's. Mike D'Angelo led St. A's tremendous fourth-quarter scoring with six points and Greg Poor and Jamie D'Angelo each scored two points to give St. A's a 21-16 victory.

South A 29 - St. Robert's C 14

South established and held their early lead to win 29-14 against St. Robert's C. Matt Orlando led the scoring with 11 points for the game, two in the first quarter, four in the second, three in the third and two in the fourth. Todd Gray contributed 4 points, Dave Corbett 6 and Chetham Harish scored 2 in the first quarter and an amazing 6 in the fourth. St. Robert's still had a strong offensive game although they didn't score at all in the first quarter. Marc Selvitelli (6) and Mike Pettouito (8) scored all of their points.

South B 33 - Christ B 21

The South team came out on top in the end of this high-scoring game. Alan Henley and John O'Neil contributed an incredible 25 points to their team's 33-21 victory. Chad Livingston, Rob Brendie and Scott Shattuck also scored. Christ's team was not without high scorers, Brian Wright had 10 points and Ben Russell had nine. Sean Baldwin was also able to get by the strong South defense, but it was not enough to beat their awesome offense.

School Superintendent Kenneth Seifert reports to the School Committee that the school department will now be represented on the LOVELY FIELD COMMITTEE; that committee was created by the selectmen last year to study the possibility of lighting the AHS field for nighttime games ... And the Andover High School girls' soccer team REMAINS UNBEATEN, defeating Georgetown 5-0 in the team's sixth victory of the season ... The Planning Board schedules a public discussion of its third proposal in three years to CHANGE DOWNTOWN PARKING REQUIREMENTS, a proposal they hope will win town meeting's approval next spring (unlike the parking articles they proposed at the last two town meetings) ... But the planners say they

Mealybugs

Mealybugs appear as white cottony blobs, especially around leaf joints or in crevices. They are tough to control because they are well protected by a water-resistant waxy secretion. They suck the sap of the plant and can stunt and kill it.

To eliminate mealybugs, dab them with diluted rubbing alcohol on a cotton swab. After the bugs die and fall

probably won't be ready to present spring town meeting with a detailed proposal to expand downtown Andover's CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT ... United States postal officials are CONSIDERING TEN SITES in Andover as potential locations for a new post office, according to the R.M. Bradley Co., the Boston real estate company that is searching for a suitable site ... A six-month search for an assistant superintendent for secondary education comes to a close with the appointment of LESLIE G. LOOMIS, an upstate New York high school principal ... Loomis and the School Committee must still settle on a salary for the new position ... ANDOVER BUSINESS PARK, a 600,000-square foot office park development proposed for a 96-acre River Road site on the Andover/Lawrence line, wins the Planning Board's approval at the preliminary planning stage ... Thanks to a bit of pressure from a group of Webelo scouts from Troop 77, the Board of Selectmen extend Halloween's official TRICK-OR-TREATING HOURS from 5:30 to 8:15 p.m., instead of 8 p.m. ... The selectmen also grant a wine-and-beer retail license for a new package store, Wine Garden, Inc., that will share space with a new gourmet take-out shop on Park Street, HORNE OF PLENTY ... both will move in with the Andover Meat Shoppe, which will undergo renovations to accommodate the new businesses ... The Planning Board begins discussing a proposed bylaw change that would, with town meeting's approval, ALLOW MULTI-FAMILY HOUSING IN ANDOVER ... The School Committee unanimously approves the choice of Leslie G. Loomis as NEW ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT for secondary education, and an annual salary of $47,000 for the new administrator ... Andover Building Inspector SALVATORE "SAM" DeSALVO is appointed president of the Massachusetts Building Commissioners and Inspectors Association ... local building inspector Leo J. Daley, another member of the town's Community Development and Planning staff, is named to the association's BOARD OF DIRECTORS ... Officer Robert J. Cronin of the Andover Police Department risks his life to save a 31-year-old Woburn man who apparently JUMPED INTO THE MERRIMACK RIVER from a bridge off Route 93 South ... Cronin jumps into the river and swims ashore with the man in his arms ... Parents from the West Elementary School Parents-Teachers Organization ask the School Committee to assign a school crossing guard to assist students walking to the school, especially children WALKING ALONG HIGH PLAIN ROAD ... the town manager comments that town officials have been trying to fill two or three existing vacancies on the crossing guard staff without success ... Legal action filed by the second-lowest bidder for the Memorial Hall Library renovation project, Anchor Construction of Lowell, DELAYS THE START OF RENOVATIONS at the library, but the manager hopes to see that temporary injunction lifted soon, so work on the $5.2 million project may begin ... Andover resident TONY ORBE is named to the Designer Selection Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts ...

library renovation project takes another step forward: Town officials SIGN A FINANCING AGREEMENT with the Shawmut Bank of Boston ... Shawmut buys the library for $1, and will now oversee the $5.2 million renovations, then hold the library in trust for 15 years ... Burnham Road residents complain to the Board of Selectmen that old water pipes badly in need of replacement have been sending RUSTY WATER out of their faucets for years ... the selectmen promise that town administrators will come up with a list specifying when pipes will be replaced on that street, as well as other streets that share the same water problem ... West Elementary School students who must walk along HIGH PLAIN ROAD will be bused to school, the School Committee decides, as a temporary safety measure ... a dozen parents had asked the committee to do something to help make the walk safer for their children ... The Andover High School Golden Warriors Marching Band wins the BEST MUSIC AWARD and a silver medal at the New England Scholastic Band Association finals in Malden ... a RECORD VOTER TURNOUT (85.2 percent) throws its support to the Republican party: President Reagan wins 61 percent of the vote here ... only Democrat Sue Tucker escapes the Republican sweep to WIN RE-ELECTION as Andover's state representative ... opponent Susan Poore says she won't rule out the possibility of ANOTHER RUN for that seat ... Shawsheen Village neighbors of a 29-unit LUXURY CONDOMINIUM DEVELOPMENT proposed for Poor Street tell the Zoning Board of Appeals that current plans differ markedly from those approved at spring town meeting — and they are not at all pleased with the new plans ... McNeil and Associates of Westwood are developing the site owned by James Barenboim of Andover ... Andover High's boys varsity soccer team RECAPTURES THE MERRIMACK VALLEY CONFERENCE TITLE in the Large School Division by defeating Billerica, last year's title-winner ... Six early-morning fires that severely damaged the Parker Company, located in a former mill building off Railroad Street, are OF SUSPICIOUS ORIGIN, fire officials say, and are under investigation by local and state officials ... During the Planning Board's first full-scale public discussion of its proposal for revising the parking bylaw, merchants and residents alike indicate that they're more interested in adding NEW DOWNTOWN PARKING SPACES than they are in a new bylaw ... Jeanne Martin, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Martin of 116 Lovejoy Road, is awarded the Missouri Medical Record Association's Annual Achievement Award for her work as an OUTSTANDING GRADUATE STUDENT ... Ms. Martin is a May graduate of St. Louis University's Medical Record Administration program ... By the end of the school year, every teacher in Andover should know HOW TO USE A COMPUTER, computer resource teacher Jerilyn Parla reports to the School Committee ... About 80 percent of the teaching staff already know the basics of computer operations, she notes ... The dedication of the flagpole at the new town office building on Bartlet Street to the late COL. EDWARD M. HARRIS highlights Veterans' Day observances in Andover ... the day is also marked by a moving ceremony for Vietnam P.O.W.-M.I.A.s at Ballardvale green, and traditional ceremonies at Spring Grove Cemetery in honor of all veterans ... New tax bills reflecting UPDATED PROPERTY VALUES along with new tax rates generate some confusion and disappointment among Andover taxpayers, according to the assessors ... many homeowners had expected lower tax rates as a result of the new lower residential tax rate, but were surprised when new valuations resulted in higher property values — and thus, higher taxes — for many of them ... With five arrests, police say they've broken up a ring of professional housebreakers who stole about $20,000 WORTH OF SILVER AND OTHER GOODS from at least six Andover homes ... most of those goods have been recovered by the police ... The Homeworks Guild of Andover plans its THIRD ANNUAL CHRISTMAS TOUR of Andover homes, where local cottage workers can showcase and sell their work in festive surroundings ... LOUISE HART of Heather Drive is elected to the Advisory Board of the North Shore Education Center, Inc., of North Reading ... Andover resident and SCHOOL COMMITTEEMAN RICHARD NEAL is named principal of the North Andover Middle School; currently the principal of two middle schools in Westford, he'll take over the North Andover post in January ... The new developers of Jenkins Estates, a 13-lot cluster subdivision off Jenkins Road, tell the Planning Board they violated the conditions of their subdivision approval because they WERE NOT AWARE of those conditions ... Town officials must SOLICIT NEW BIDS for the Memorial Hall Library project because the second-lowest bidder for the $5.2 million project has successfully contested the low bidder's claim to the pro-

The state Department of Health approves plans for a new SURGICAL DAY CARE CENTER to be built at Doctors Park on Haverhill Street; the $3 million center is the first of its kind to be approved by the state ... Taking their first look at the Fiscal Year 1986 school budget, the School Committee estimates the total budget at $16,120,555 — a 9.9 PERCENT INCREASE over last year's $14,665,000 figure ... Police recover more than $2,000 worth of STOLEN GOODS, including cameras, watches, radios and liquor, with the arrest of a 16-year-old Andover boy who, they say, has confessed to a number of housebreaks in the Greenwood Road, Marilyn and Dufton roads and North Main Street areas ... police say the same youth is responsible for several incidents of vandalism as well ... Andover Warrior SHANE SMITH is presented the Eugene V. Lovely trophy by Hal Wernick, as the annual football banquet and awards ceremony at the Collins Center caps the 1984 AHS football season ... Andover gymnast Michelle Soreff, 13, wins TWO FIRST-PLACE MEDALS at the Golden Apple Invitational Meet in New York; she takes first place in all-around competition, balance beam and floor exercises, as well as second place on the uneven bars and third place on the vault ... The Board of Selectmen approve the transfer of the liquor license for JUSTIN'S RESTAURANT to a new corporation, paving the way for the sale of the Park Street restaurant: Brian Jaymes will sell Justin's to Gerhard Schnellinger of North Andover ... Mary and Fred Cummings of 47 High Plain Road continue a 19-year tradition by wrapping the 30-foot spruce on their front lawn with more than 400 CHRISTMAS LIGHTS ... In hopes of making their parking bylaw proposal more palatable to spring town meeting voters, the Planning Board deletes the MOST CONTROVERSIAL ASPECT from the proposal — one that would have allowed expanding businesses to purchase parking credits from the town in lieu of providing new parking spaces ... Night custodian LEO LYNCH announces that he will retire next March, after 17 years of service with the school department ... Leo's is a familiar face to those who attend Tuesday-night School Committee meetings at school offices ... Developers James Barenboim of Andover and McNeil and Associates of Westwood WITHDRAW THEIR REQUEST for a Zoning Board of Appeals permit to build a 27-unit condominium development on Poor Street, after the ZBA indicates that it would probably reject current plans for the condo site ... the developers will discuss revised plans with the Planning Board and other town officials before returning to the zoning board ... REMBRANDT'S RESTAURANT opens at 18 Elm St., with the interior of the former Lundgren Funeral Home entirely renovated ... the exterior of the gray building, which dates back to 1820, appears much the same as it always has, however ... ## Diamonds

The diamond is first known to have found its place in an engagement ring in 1477. Maximilian of Austria had asked his advisors for help in choosing a proper engagement ring for his betrothed, Mary of Burgundy. Their advice: "Give her a diamond."

The diamond has since remained the symbol of betrothal for many reasons. Its very name, from the Greek adamas, meaning unconquerable, suggests the triumph and eternity of love. Like the passion of love, some say, it "sends forth a flame without the aid of fire."

Looking Back

Memorial Hall Library also appears on both the plus and minus side of the ledger this year. The manager is pleased that the MHL expansion/renovation project "got off the ground" — a financing arrangement was reached with Shawmut Bank of Boston — but construction has yet to begin, due to a continuing round of legal appeals by the second-lowest bidder for the project.

However, "There have been some benefits in its delay," Mahony noted. "We've saved considerable money on our bonding (since interest rates have dropped in recent months).

"We've also found some magnificent old moldings and ceiling decorations under the dropped ceilings on the first and second floors at the library." Plans for the heating and ventilation system will be redesigned to "take advantage of and restore" those original design features, he said.

Design changes also delayed the construction of a new town parking lot off Bartlet Street: "We wanted it ready by spring 1984, and now it won't be ready until spring 1985," the manager explained. "We have changed the design significantly."

The parking lot project was ready to go out for bids last month, but the manager decided to hold out for the lower bids that contractors usually have to offer in January or February, he said.

Mahony also admitted to some disappointment over lingering vacancies on the police and fire departments during 1984, although those openings did not endanger the public, he said.

The manager blamed "Civil Service confusion" for the delay in hiring new public safety officers, but said those problems have been settled: three new police officers and five firefighters would be hired by the end of this month, he said.

Despite some understaffing in the Police Department, the police detective division has been "extremely effective this year," the manager added. "The maturity of the detective force deserves special commendation."

Mahony had special praise as well for the staff of the relatively-new Municipal Maintenance department, which was given the "impossible task" of converting the Shawsheen School from administrative offices into an early childhood education center within five months, and did a "really outstanding" job.

The town clerk's office did its "usual good job" handling this year's elections, and opening a second polling place during the presidential election "helped considerably," the manager commented.

After moving into its new quarters on the first floor of the school administration offices on Whittier Street (one wing of the old junior high school), the Senior Center has grown dramatically, Mahony said.

The new senior day care program has also been "very well-received, and worked out nicely," while the extended day care program at the new Shawsheen early childhood center is also off to a strong start.

Yet "the really high-quality work some of our committees and commissions have done" stands out as the high point of the year, in the manager's opinion.

The Reuse Committee, for example, "has done a remarkable job in a very short period of time," deciding the fate (with town meeting approval) of the East Junior High wings, library, Shawsheen School, Essex Street theatre building (recently demolished to make way for the library addition) and Town Hall. Only Town Hall's future remains unresolved.

The Development and Industrial Commission and the Industrial Finance Authority have also put in a fruitful year: "The development going on right now is well-planned, well-executed — just what we wanted," Mahony said. "There has not been a major re-zoning in a lot of years," he noted.

Once again the Planning Board has worked hard during the past year. "Boards tend to develop a personality," the manager commented, "and this one is intelligent, young, eager. It works hard and isn't overbearing — they work well with people, and they're working for the people."

The Conservation Commission and Board of Health have worked hard and done a fine job in 1984 as well, the manager said, as have the Finance Committee, Cable Television Advisory Committee, School Committee and Board of Selectmen.

He noted, too, that the League of Women Voters still has an observer at "virtually every meeting" that takes place in town.

"In Andover, as always, a lot of people are doing the job," Manager Mahony concluded. "It's not a small number of people, but a lot of people doing the job."

Seek Field Land For Building

The Board of Selectmen are taking the first steps to put a municipal maintenance building on land at the southern end of Lovely Field, adjacent to Andover High School.

Last Tuesday, Dec. 18, they asked the School Committee to transfer land under their control for the approximately 4,000 square foot structure which Selectman Chairman Donn Byrne told the board would house the town's plumbing, electrical and carpentry shops. The vehicle maintenance and storage facilities will stay on Lewis Street, he added.

The School Committee voted unanimously to support a warrant article at this spring's Town Meeting to transfer the land to the town. Member Susan T. Poore was absent from that meeting.

Town employees will build the cinder block and brick structure, Byrne said, with materials from The Haven Building, on Essex Street, which most recently housed the town's planning and development personnel. The building was recently demolished to make way for an addition to the Memorial Hall Library.

School Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert told the committee that the land the town wants to use is not large enough to house a school.

The Great Mogul

The Great Mogul was the largest Indian diamond known. The rough stone weighed 817 carats, but inept cutting reduced it to 287½ carats. The Orlof, now part of the Soviet diamond treasury, was one of the Russian crown jewels. Legend says that it was one of the eyes of the Hindu god Sri-Ranga in a temple in Sirangem.

The world's largest jigsaw puzzle was put together on Sunday, Aug. 19, 1984. It was 3,648 feet square and consisted of 13,500 pieces.

Some people have believed that striking the door sill with an ax would drive away bad weather.

The Audi 4000S quattro is so logical.

It uses all four wheels all of the time for the good reason that permanent all wheel drive maximizes traction efficiency by equally distributing the engine's power to all four wheels.

And when each wheel is then surrounded with independent suspension and disc brakes, the result is an incredibly enhanced feeling of driver control. All of the time. In any weather. In the city or on the highway.

And all achieved with no loss of fuel efficiency, unlike other four wheel drive systems.*

Permanent all wheel drive significantly does improve directional control, cornering capabilities and unswerving stopping power.

The power source for all four wheels is a 5-cylinder, 2.2 litre engine that accelerates from 0 to 50 in 6.9 seconds.

Feel what it's like to have all four wheels working for you. Test drive the new 4000S quattro. With this car, Audi engineers have taken the simple fact that a car has four wheels to a particularly effective conclusion.

*[18] EPA EST. MPG, 22 EST. HWY. Compare these estimates to the EST. MPG of other cars. Your mileage may vary depending on speed, weather, and trip length. Your actual highway mileage will probably be less.

The art of engineering.

Every car has four wheels.
Only quattro uses them all.

King's Subs Lightens Your Holiday Load

Basilios Polopoulos, John Georges, Soula Hatsiandrou and Tom Georges of King's Subs.

Some holiday cooking is exciting, inventive, a gourmet delight.

Some, however, isn't. You know the kind—routine meals; putting lunch together for the visitors and their kids. Those late snacks you're too tired to make. That cooking that takes up the time you'd rather spend doing almost anything else—or maybe just enjoying the season yourself.

King's Subs can give you a break. Home-made pizza and meat or spinach pie, chicken or beef shish-kabobs cooked over charcoal, Greek salads, seafood platters, souvlaki, pastas and subs of all descriptions—King's has light snacks, dinners and even whole parties, to go or to eat in the restaurant.

King's Subs is conveniently located next to the Andover town parking lot, on Bartlett Street. Tom and John Georges opened the shop in March of 1984, but they are not new to the fast-food business. For twelve years, they have also operated King's Subs of South Lawrence (on Beacon Street). "Our long experience sets our food apart," says Tom Georges. He adds, "We're not afraid to put filling on our sandwiches."

If you should decide to schedule a "Whew—the holidays are over!" party, King's can furnish catered platters or several pizzas at once. With any three home-made pizzas, King's will give you a cheese pizza free. The Georges recommend that you call the week before for large party orders.

To give yourself a holiday break, call King's Subs at 470-1850. Or stop in any day from 11 AM to 9 PM; King's is open 7 days a week. While you're there, try Mrs. Georges' home-made baklava for dessert—it, alone, is worth the trip.

Special Education Award Recipients

School Committee Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert, third from left, surprised five teachers on Tuesday night when he presented them with awards for their work with Andover school students. The teachers were told they would talk with the School Committee about the special education programs in town, instead they received plaques, each with different messages engraved on their awards. Five of the seven award winners pictured are, from left, Mary Pitochelli, Sharon Wilson, Seifert, Mary French (acting pupil personnel administrator who works with the teachers), Dave Nichols, Steve Jankauskas and Darryl Arsenault. Missing were Debbie Phillips, who was ill, and pupil personnel administrator Pamela Kvilekval, on leave of absence in Milano, Italy.

THE SUPER-SPECIAL HOUSE

Every house is special in its way - but some are more special than others. Take, for instance, the luxury home owned by singer Kenny Rogers. When the property was sold to an oilman last summer, the price - more than $20 million - set a record for a single-family residence.

Of course, it takes a little longer to market an unusual property, because there are fewer buyers who qualify. Unique architecture does not appeal to everyone; neither does out-of-the-way location. And the biggest stumbling block is often price.

Whether your house is extra special or especially ordinary, we can find the right buyer. You reap the benefits of our expertise.

SELL AND STAY

Techniques that work in commercial/investment real estate are being used today in residential real estate. One of them is the sales-leaseback method. Here's how it would work to the advantage of all parties.

Say you own your own home or condominium. You have a large equity built up, perhaps it is paid for in full with no mortgage. You plan to move in a couple of years, but would like to sell now, have the sale out of the way and the money in the bank. You also want to remain in the same residence until you move at a later date. you tell your story to a good, local Realtor (like us) and he or she will find an investor who would like to purchase such a unit for the investment (future appreciation and tax benefits) and one with a built-in tenant. You, as the tenant would pay the rent plus all the expenses to run the residence, such as taxes, utilities, maintenance, and insurance. No different than before, except your money is now in the bank or in another investment and your new owner has, in essence, a management-free, money-making investment.

To Discuss Sign For Collins Center

The proposed sign directing guests to Andover High School and the J. Everett Collins Center will be discussed again by the Zoning Board of Appeals at a tonight, Thursday, Dec. 27, in the Town Hall conference room.

The board already considered one sign design, presented to them at their Dec. 6 meeting, but decided, after viewing the site for the sign and hearing from neighbors at their last meeting, that the sign, as it was initially designed, was too large.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m., in the second floor meeting room of the Bartlet Street building.

Jared Clark, president of Andover Endowment for the Arts, the group that runs the Collins Center, told THE TOWNSMAN that the ZBA also thought the sign was too commercial-looking.

As it was first designed the sign would be seven and one half feet tall. The second design has the sign rising to six feet and it is eight feet wide, Clark said.

Because the sign is larger than town zoning laws allow, the Appeals Board must approve the sign size.

Also to be discussed is a request by Central Industrial Laboratories, Inc., to expand their Connector Road building to accommodate new equipment at the plant.

The board has already conditionally approved the request, pending a written decision, said member Ernest Hall. Specific conditions for the addition will be discussed next Thursday.

Multiple Sclerosis

The cause of multiple sclerosis, which usually strikes young adults between ages 20 and 40, is unknown and no cure has as yet been discovered.

Multiple sclerosis is a disease of the brain and spinal cord which interferes with the brain's ability to control such functions as seeing, walking and talking. It's called multiple because many scattered areas of the brain and spinal cord are affected and symptoms can be mild or severe and come and go unpredictably. It's called sclerosis because the disease involved "sclerosed" or hardened tissue in damaged areas of the brain and spinal cord.

Early symptoms, which may include eye trouble, shaking of hands, staggering, speech problems, weakness and numbness, are usually slight but as time goes on might become more numerous and severe.
